Many ways to beat high college costs

Seniors need to start now in their search for college funds. The average cost of college attendance for full time Oregon residents in undergrad status is estimated to be $18,542 for the coming year. This would be the cost if the student were to attend an Oregon public university.

If the student were to attend Southwestern Oregon Community College and live with their parents the cost for the 08-09 school year is estimated to be $8,776. The student could live in student housing on the SOCC campus and the estimated expense would be $12,556. Both of these estimates are given as if the student were single.

These estimates take

Talent Search students listen to a speaker during last year's campus visit to the University of Oregon. This year's first college field trip was earlier this month to Oregon State, with many Satellite schools heading back to the U of O on Thursday, October 30.

into consideration all college costs for the average student. This would include tuition, books, lab fees, rent, living expenses, food, entertainment, shampoo, etc. The point is that attending college is expensive. But it is an expense that is well worth the time, money, and effort because of the huge potential to increase lifelong income and enjoy a higher lifestyle.

Ask your parents if their employer has a scholarship program for the dependants of employees. Many labor unions and employers have funds to help with college attendance.

Do a search of the local service organizations such as the Elks, Eagles, Moose, Rotary, etc., to see if they there are scholarship opportunities for you. Don't be bashful about making phone or email contact with these groups, this is part of their function.

If you are a member of a federally recognized Indian tribe there should be college funds available through your tribe. Contact your tribe as soon as possible because each tribe has different rules about who can get their funds. Many times there will be a waiting list for assistance, so get your name on the list as soon as possible.

Explore your career, college options

Cohen ready to assist Bandon, Pacific students

I hope your summer was fun and that you are ready for another school year. My summer was spent completing a back porch on my property and going to New York City to visit my family. I am rested and eager to assist you in exploring career and college options.

Last year, we went to several college campuses and to events that explored career opportunities. This year, there will be more college trips for our juniors and seniors. For freshmen and sophomores, there will be an opportunity to go to a college fair. In October and November, we will have campus visits to Oregon State University (OSU), University of Oregon (U of O), Portland State University (PSU), and Lane Community College (LCC). The college fair will be at Roseburg High

Brookings-Harbor and Gold Beach happenings

Keep yours eyes and ears open so you can take advantage of all that is going on.

- Senior Nights have come and gone. If you did not attend you may want some of the hand outs
- ETS Juniors be sure to get signed up for the PSAT. It is good practice. No cost for ETS.
- Trip sign ups are available. We will be going to OIT, the National College Fair in Medford and the University of Oregon.
- Other testing opportunities: SAT, ACT, ASVAB – these are either no cost or waivers are available
- College 101 for Juniors in December
- Oregon University System college visits to your school or one near you
- Sophomore oriented study skills event
- Freshman Experience in the winter

Also, you can leave a message for me in the library and I will get back to you when I am at school. Gold Beach, I am housed in “the Pit” and Brookings-Harbor, near the “Go Bruins” sign in the library.

School on Wednesday, October 22. All events will be announced in the daily bulletins as the events draw closer. I will have flyers, parent permission slips, and sign-up sheets made available.

These events are a great benefit. Think about how expensive it would be to do all those campus visitations. We pay the transportation, meals, and registrations. Last year, several students made their final college destination decisions because they got to visit the campuses with us. They liked the feel of the campus, the instructors they got to meet, and even the food they were served!

Most of you know that I work at two high schools, Bandon and Pacific. I have office hours, but keep in mind that there are many reasons why the hours are changed. Sometimes, I am sent to a training session. If we are scheduled to go on an out-of-town trip, I will change my days in order to make sure that the final arrangements are complete, such as parent permission slips, bus arrangements, etc. These changes will be posted in the daily bulletins, if at all possible. With that said, my office hours are:

Bandon High School:

Tuesday 8:30 A.M. to 3 P.M.

Thursday 8:30 A.M. to noon

Pacific High School:

Wednesday 9 to 3 P.M.

Thursday 1 P.M. to 3 P.M.

My goal this year is to talk with each of you many times, either in the classroom or individually. Please don’t wait for me to call upon you – come visit me whenever you can. I usually have some candy just waiting to be eaten by a Talent Search participant!

Hectic time of year for Talent Search students

Seniors taking, signing up for SAT/ACT; most others looking at PSAT/NMSQT

It was a very hectic first month of the school year and that craziness will continue through much of the Fall as Talent Search students at different grade levels have some important tasks ahead.

For many seniors, especially those seriously considering attending 4-year colleges/university right after graduation, your next task is prepping for the SAT. Most have signed up for the November 1 test and the rest are slated to take in the SAT in December due to conflicts with sporting events. Others are opting to also take the ACT, which has a science component the SAT doesn't have, in December at Southwestern and at least one senior looking at early admission and some prestigious private schools took the October SAT.

I know you will be getting some assistance for both national college entrance exams through your senior English class, but some additional time won't hurt even if it's just looking at the SAT Question of the Day many of you get via e-mail from College Board or perusing some of the numerous books with practice materials on the shelf in my office.

The juniors and sophomores will get a chance to see how they stack up nationally when they get the scores back in December or January from the PSAT/NMSQT they took Wednesday, Oct. 15 at Reedsport JR/SR High. There is a lot of valuable information available from the PSAT and a link to a wonderful program through College Board called My Road. Details will be included with each score report and the database built with information provided on the answer sheet often results in students getting mail from colleges all across the country.

While sophomores don't get to go on campus visits yet, we will be taking you to the Roseburg College Fair on Wednesday, Oct. 22 and look to offer more career exploration activities as the school year continues.

Please feel free to stop by my office (Room 18) any time Tuesday through Thursday to talk about your post-secondary plans. I'm usually there from 7:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. I can be reached by phone at 271-2141, extension 515, or e-mail at bmiller@reedsport.k12.or.us.
