Southwestern has added an Associate of Science degree in Natural Resources!

The new program has a watershed emphasis, yet the curriculum itself remains interdisciplinary, which encourages students to learn about timber resources, fish and wildlife management, hydrology/watersheds, recreation, and how to manage for a variety of natural resource objectives. This means that the program is extraordinarily flexible, giving students ample opportunity to explore their own interests and potential career paths. The strong curriculum requires a full year of coursework in biology, physics and calculus for students pursuing the two-year degree.

Graduates of Southwestern’s program will be able to enter the Natural Resources-Watershed option program at Oregon State University (OSU) as juniors. The curriculum of the Forestry and Natural Resources programs are similar enough that students can wait until well into their first year before deciding which program to pursue. Career options for students acquiring this degree include those involving land use, water resources, environmental policy, forest or arid land ecology, wildlife management, and natural resources education.

Southwestern has added an Associate of Science degree in Natural Resources!

If you’re interested in starting Southwestern’s Natural Resources or Forestry degree this fall contact the instructor or make an appointment to speak with an advisor at 541-888-7405.

New Professor Hired

Southwestern has hired Tasha Livingstone to fill the tenure track position for the Forestry and Natural Resources program. Livingstone has bachelor’s and master’s degrees in Forestry from OSU, along with two years of forestry teaching experience at OSU and Southwestern. She also taught internationally and has four summers work experience with the Bureau of Land Management. Livingstone is on the job this summer, teaching high school students in the Summer Bridge program, a partnership with the Coos Watershed Association, Ford Family Foundation and Pacific Power.

Tasha grew up locally, graduating from North Bend High School, and in her spare time is writing a sci-fi fantasy trilogy.

CAMPUS TUTORING

HAS MOVED!
The Tutoring Center is now located on the 3rd Floor of Tioga Hall. The center is staffed by highly qualified tutors with successful experiences in a variety of topics and courses. Tutoring services, both drop-in and by appointment, are offered free of charge to all students. Construction of the new center will be on-going through the rest of the year, but ALL tutoring services will still be available. Everyone is encouraged to come check out the new space (pardon our mess!) as we create an awesome new learning space to meet the academic needs of all Southwestern students.
Southwestern’s Community Education offers life-long learning and personal enrichment opportunities to the community. Non-credit classes, seminars, and workshops are provided by Southwestern’s teaching staff and by qualified instructors from our community. Course and section numbers are located before course title. If a course has more than one section, the course number and section number can be found after the course description.

For instructions on how to register for a Community Education class visit: www.socc.edu/communityed. For more information call 541-888-7328.

COOS BAY CAMPUS

FALL CLASSES
The Student Support Services project at Southwestern Oregon Community College is one of the TRIO programs funded by the U.S. Department of Education, Division of Special Services for the Disadvantaged. Title IV, Higher Education Act of 1965. One hundred percent of the SSS project at Southwestern is financed by federal funds of approximately $291,000 per year.

TRIO Student Support Services provides FREE services including: tutoring, advising, transfer planning, career counseling, private study area, plus financial aid and scholarship assistance.

Our goal is to help you succeed at SWOCC!

For more information or to find out if you qualify please visit us in Stensland 104 or call 541-888-7419.

To be eligible for SSS you must be an admitted, degree-seeking student at Southwestern and meet one or more of the following:
- First generation college student (neither parent has a four-year degree)
- Low-income according to Federal guidelines
- Have a documented disability which impacts your ability to participate in the educational experience.

WRITE YOUR STORY

Southwestern offers writers at all levels an opportunity to be part of a superb writing group that crafts their own experiences into stories to share with friends and families or to publish for a wider audience. If you are a college student, your non-fiction narratives can range from short memoir pieces or externship reflections to personal essays useful for college applications or portfolios.
Open to everyone, Writing 250 provides materials, an experienced teacher, and a lively group of fellow writers to help you shape your stories.

Writing 250 (WR*250)
Mondays • 12:30-3:30 p.m.

Distance Learning

For more information on class times, fees and other questions, contact the Distance Learning Office at (541) 888-7345, (800) 962-2838 Ext. 7345 or a Curry County Campus.

Online: Course offerings are provided over the Internet using the eLearning Learning Management System with instructors at SWOCC. Tests are either online or proctored at designated sites. Please contact your instructor for testing details.

eLearning is the Web-based software designed to deliver online learning. eLearning has a variety of teaching and learning tools totally online. You can find eLearning when you login to myLakerLink and look about half way down the left side.

myLakerLink is our student registration system. To register for or drop courses, use myLakerLink. See page 2 for more information.

Textbooks: If you are taking an online course taught by a Southwestern instructor, visit the SWOCC Bookstore in Stensland Hall on the Coos Bay campus or go online at www.socc.edu/bookstore. For more information call 541-888-7264, (800) 962-2838 Ext. 7264. Students in Curry County can order books online or at their local center.

Assistance: Southwestern has a variety of ways for you to be successful. Please make sure you are ready for this exciting and convenient way to learn.

1) Visit our web site www.socc.edu/distance/ for basic information on getting started.
2) Contact the Distance Education department (541) 888-7345 or (800) 962-2838 Ext. 7345 for registration information about our no cost “Introduction to Online Learning” class online.
3) An online student information booklet is located at www.socc.edu/distance/ under Student Resources.

Building Oregon’s best businesses in Coos, Curry and Western Douglas Counties:

- Free one-on-one business advising
- “GrowthWheel” business tool
- Affordable training
- Financial analysis
- Business planning assistance
- Referral services
- Market research
- Valuable, timely information

The Southwestern Small Business Development Center (SBDC) provides practical information and services for your business success. We focus on assisting with the retention and expansion of established businesses on the South Coast. Additionally, we provide specialty services to both rapid growth businesses and start-ups. We are here to help you make your business a continuing success.

BUSINESS WORKSHOPS

Check out and register for upcoming training opportunities either online or local by going to:
www.bizcenter.org or www.socc.edu/sbdc

The Small Business Development Center Network offers many workshops on pertinent business topics, designed to sharpen your management skills. This is practical, results-oriented training that you can put to immediate use. Prices vary depending on format and sponsorships.

A Ready, Set, Start Your Business workshop is offered weekly in North Bend for those interested in learning more about going into business. The cost of this 2-hour training is only $20.

BUSINESS ADVISING & ASSISTANCE

Existing business owners in Coos, Curry, and Western Douglas counties can access confidential business advising at no charge. Advising is tailored to your individual needs and is provided by business advisors (in English as well as in Spanish) on a wide variety of issues including marketing/sales, financing sources, record keeping/accounting, business planning, licensing, exporting, pricing, financial analysis and much more.

Call 541-756-6866 (North Bend) or go to www.bizcenter.org for more information or to arrange an appointment.

e-sbdc – A BUSINESS WEBSITE

Zap into the e-sbdc website for business information that is useful no matter what stage of business you are in. Use Oregon’s online tool for small business, the e-sbdc, to search by one of five categories (Thinking, Launching, Growing, Reinventing, or Exiting) or search by topic. You will have choices of resources, online training, registering for an advising appointment and information about upcoming events. www.BizCenter.org offers you a multitude of resources that are available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Access and use them any place and anytime.
